Claim Number: 98117

To the Honorable John T. Dorsey, Chief United States Bankruptcy Court Judge:

I, Christian John McGalloway, hereby submit this response to the Debtors' One Hundred Forty-Ninth Omnibus Objection to Certain Late Filed Claims (the "Objection") regarding my claim number 98117 in the amount of USD 39,764.97815106.

BACKGROUND

1. I am a customer of FTX Trading Ltd. with legitimate holdings on the platform at the time of bankruptcy.
2. My claim represents actual assets held on the FTX platform, specifically USD 39,764.97815106.

REASON FOR LATE FILING

3. During the claims process, I experienced significant confusion and concern due to receiving numerous fraudulent communications purporting to be from FTX or related entities.
4. I received multiple spam emails that appeared to be related to the FTX bankruptcy claims process. Some of these fraudulent communications requested personal information that could have compromised my security.
5. Due to the sophisticated nature of these scam attempts, I had difficulty distinguishing between legitimate communications from Kroll/FTX and fraudulent ones. This created a genuine fear of responding to the wrong communications and potentially compromising my personal and financial information.

6. This situation caused me to be extremely cautious in responding to any communications related to the FTX bankruptcy, which unfortunately contributed to my delayed filing.

REQUEST FOR RELIEF

7. I respectfully request that the Court allow my claim despite its late filing. The delay was not due to negligence but rather to legitimate concerns about cybersecurity and fraud in a complex bankruptcy case involving digital assets.

8. Allowing my claim would serve the interests of justice without prejudicing other creditors, as my claim represents actual assets held on the FTX platform.

CONCLUSION

For the reasons stated above, I respectfully request that the Court deny the Objection with respect to my claim and allow it to proceed.

Dated: 1/21/2025

Respectfully submitted,

Christian J. McGalloway
